English III Students:

Please, read through this letter. These are your instructions for today!

REMEMBER: You have a test over Of Mice and Men tomorrow.

Your journal (with Of Mice and Men journal questions) is due tomorrow. You should be finishing these today. If you have your journal with you, you may use it on the test.

Also due tomorrow is the “chronolog/irony/symbols/character” handout you got on Thursday. You may also use this handout on the test. If you turned it in, it is in the stack of papers to be returned to you.

Please find a student or 2 in your class to return these papers; the last 2 quizzes taken are in there!

If you were absent on Friday, please check your folder. On Friday, we read “To a Mouse” (skip “To a Louse”) and answered the 3 open-ended response questions. You need to know where the title Of Mice and Men comes from. If you can’t figure it out after reading “To a Mouse,” please ask a classmate! You need to know what an allusion is!

If you have been absent and prefer to take the test at a later date, the make-up test for Of Mice and Men will be after school on Thursday. Remember: this test has been assigned for a week now. The quiz over Chapters 5 & 6 was on Thursday. You have had plenty of time to prepare. NO EXCUSES!

If you have a copy of Of Mice and Men, please return it by tomorrow!

Portions of this test will replace 2 low quiz grades! If you have not made up a quiz, this will replace the missing quiz grade(s).

If you are on the INL list, don’t forget about lunch tutorials in Sousa and after-school tutorials in Handel 1 tomorrow!

Also, don’t forget about lunch tutorials for English III tomorrow!

Always remember: Big Brother is watching you!
